

Review of Meeting

August 25 5:30PM at the garden

Everyone agreed that the grand opening was a real success. We talked about wanting to expand the North St. garden, but Matt Skehan will have the final word on that. We also have an interest in the lot on Moore St., and Cindy agreed to talk to some of the residents. Fund raising was discussed, and the possibilities of asking area businesses to "sponsor a bed." We all felt that folks (if they choose to) can keep their garden bed for next year, but of course, they'll still have to pay the $10.00 fee. People might be asked to contribute more than $10.00 (but that would be voluntary) to aide in the garden expansion.

People thought that Caragh Fitzgerald was a great resource and a fine person as well.

Erin has written a couple of grants, and there might be a possibility of our group getting some funding.

Mini-greenhouses for some of the beds was mentioned and also someone had an interest in rooftop gardening.

Laura would like to organize a wild plant/herb/weed/medicinal walk on the trail by the garden and maybe also on the stream. She'll be looking for a leader.

Next meeting Oct. 6, Tuesday, 5:30. Barrels.
