

5.1. Low density residential district (R-A).

5.1.1. Purpose.

The R-A district is principally for low density residential development. Any future development which would interfere with such low density residential use or which would not perform a neighborhood function is hereby prohibited.

5.1.2. R-A Principal uses permitted.

5.1.2.A. One-family dwellings. [Note: By definition, modular housing is allowed.]

5.1.2.B. Two-family dwellings and alteration of single-family dwellings to accommodate no more than two (2) families, provided that the parking standard and the dimensional requirements of the zone are met.

5.1.2.C. New multifamily dwellings and conversions of existing buildings to multifamily dwellings as provided in Section 4.3.18 and the Subdivision Ordinance. Notwithstanding the above, the code enforcement officer may approve conversions of existing buildings to create as many as three units, if those conversions do not constitute subdivisions.

5.1.2.D Community living arrangements as defined in Section 3.2.

5.1.2.E. Private and public schools, if adequately screened and fenced recreational areas are provided.

5.1.2.F. Public service facilities including public parks and community centers. [See Section 5.19.2 for additional examples.]

5.1.2.G. Churches, parish houses, rectories, convents.

5.1.2.H. Public utility or communications installations for service in the zoning district in which it is proposed to be located. No cellular telephone towers are permitted.
